

The Project: Visitor's Center For One of America's Best Known Candy Makers

The Challenge:

Managing a rainbow of specified colors on multiple surfaces with an array of mobilizations at the this amazing Visitor Center

The Peak Performance:

An interior design firm created an environment of vibrant, radiant colors. The very first thing the visitor notices when walking into the Center is paint: 10 vibrantly, dramatic colored walls and panels. It's a veritable palette of hues for the senses. Meeting varied schedules involving a range of contractors and unique displays all made for a potential chaotic environment but K. Morgan applied foresight in every step of the project, keeping it's craftsmen at high production levels. The Visitor Center contains walls, tall structures, displays, unique materials and display

The K. Morgan Guarantee:

- Anticipate problems to save you cost and lost time.
- Work efficiently in difficult situations.
- Assure our crew is on time and ready for work.
- Fully stocked trucks.
- Job done right the first time.
- Complete quotation, no surprise extra charges later.

platforms, all intended to present merchandise. When the permanent high tact wall graphics created surface rips when adjusted, K. Morgan brought the solution with a specialized hard coating that prohibited wall surface pull-off. This allowed the applicators to reposition graphics as needed while at the same time keeping the job on schedule.

What's more, keeping the painting process seamless while being interrupted by other specialty contractors, required excellence in mobilization.

This Visitor Center is the standard for visual excellence which is one reason why K. Morgan was selected to handle this detailed and sensitive project.

K. Morgan understands the intricacies of projects of this magnitude and brings that expertise to projects of every size and nature. Every time!
